Dear <<First Name>>,

With longer days and maple sap emerging from its winter hibernation, the end of winter has always been a time of renewal and reflection for us.

With that in mind, we will be taking steps to refresh and modernize our contact database in an effort to bring you the most value.

Over the coming weeks, we will be segmenting our audience so that you get the news and information that is most relevant to your needs.

We will be adding discrete segments for those interested in:

- Local and state climate resilience
- Technology and market trends for resource-efficient indoor horticulture
- News and updates related to energy efficiency opportunities in your state

- Our Leafy Seminar cannabis business education series

As we work to update our database, please use this form to let us know what, if any, topics you would like to be informed about.

If we don't hear from you, we'll do our best to match you with the correct segment(s).

WEBINAR ALERT

Strategies and Tactics to Reduce Grower Energy Costs

Wednesday, April 6, Noon ET

FMI visit LEAFYSEMINARS.COM

sam@enlightenyourgrow.com * 207-331-3930

The urgency and seriousness of the threat of high energy costs to many commercial growers inspired us to pull together our first Leafy Seminar of 2022. We will be going live on WEDNESDAY, APRIL 6 at NOON ET.

Max Stewart of Atlas Retail Energy will be joining us to share his professional insights into what's happening in energy markets, what to expect over the coming months, and what are some proven market-based strategies that growers can take to cut their power bills.

Visit the Leafy Seminars web page for more information about this exciting webinar. Attendees can register directly on Zoom here. We hope you will join us!

NEW ENGLAND CANNABIS CONVENTION
HYNES CONVENTION CENTER 900 BOYLSTON ST., BOSTON, MA

MARCH 18-20, 2022

It's hard to believe that the New England Cannabis Convention - the original NECANN event - has been meeting at the Hynes

Convention Center in Boston since 2014. While we can't claim to be present for the moment the Hynes first opened its doors to the cannabis industry, we are glad to have spoken at NECANN conventions in Boston and Portland, Maine over the past four years, including in 2018, 2019, and 2021.

Are you planning on attending the upcoming NECANN convention in Boston this weekend? If so, let us know! We look forward to meeting old friends and to sparking new partnerships there.

Partner of the Month

ANDERSON PORTER DESIGN

Anderson Porter Design (APD) is a Cambridge, Mass-based architecture and design firm that specializes in cannabis retail and production, residential multi-family and senior housing, and workplace design and flow.

As a team steeped in social responsibility, APD Principals and Associates prioritize health, wellness, and sustainability in their designs. They are constantly looking for unique ways of tackling energy and materials consumption, the lack of affordable housing, and creating workspaces that inspire rather than limit.

Climate Resources Group is proud to be allied with APD for many years, especially in the movement for a more sustainable cannabis industry.

Reach out to Anderson Porter Design by email or by phone at (617) 354-2501 to inquire about how the firm's broad architectural and design services can benefit your next cannabis or residential project.
